State Labor Camp Quota Almost Filled

Nevada City Camp Now Employs Almost 100 Men in Projects Along Highways and in Forests

There are now 87 men at Nevada City State Labor Camp, a half mile above the Nevada City high school on the Nevada City-Grass Valley highway, and this quota it is expected will be increased to 100 men or camp capacity.

The men are being employed 30 hours a week at a maximum wage of 45 cents an hour. Their work consists mainly in cleaning brush off the highway right of way. Some of them are engaged in the same work as the C .C. C. boys in clearing the Ponderosa fire break. William Sharp of the State Forestry service is in charge of the camp.

National Forest Supervisor Bigelow announced that in the Tahoe area 400 young men of the C. C. C. camps will be employed in various projects by December 15. Many of these men will be taken from the lists provided by the County Relief administration, registered with Probation Officer A. W. McGagin, John W. O'Neil or Stanley Woolcock. In Nevada county 125 men will be employed.

Among other projects started, or about to be started is the telephone line for the forestry service from Nevada City to North Bloomfield, a firebreak at North Bloomfield ,and construction of the Ponderosa Way between Deer Creek and Rice's Crossing on the North Yuba.

CHAMBER WILL SEND DELEGATES TO ROAD MEET

Interstate highway development directly affecting motor travel in the future in western states is promised a powerful stimulus from the meeting of good roads leaders tomorrow, December 9, at Reno, Nevada, according to the California State Auto Association, which is in charge of arrangements for the event.

It was originally planned as a tribute to the people of Nevada for the improvement of the two transcontinental routes crossing that state, the Lincoln highway and the Victory highway. The Reno meeting will also include discussion of other inter state highway projects.

The Nevada City chamber of commerce will send a delegation to the Reno meeting. If the weather permits many will motor over instead of going by train.

Those so far signifying their intention of going are: Forest Supervisor R .L. P. Bigelow, Postmaster P. G. Scadden; S. Lee Leiter, one of the directors of the local chamber of commerce; F. F. Cassidy, president of the local chamber of commerce; R. N. McCormack, county clerk; and members of the county board of supervisors.

URGES HOLIDAY WORK FOR THOSE MOST IN NEED

Merchants and shopkeepers are urged to give holiday work to those who actually need it, in a statement today by E. Tilden Mattox, District Compliance Direetor.

It has been called to the attention of National Recovery Administration officials that many establishments in preparing for the Christmas rush are employing sales people who are really not in particular need of employment. Some of those new employees are merely persons who desire extra spending money.

"Of course the employers themselves cannot always control this," Mr. Mattox stated, "but in fairness to the many deserving workers who have been unsuccessful in obtaining even part-time employment, we must appeal to the fair minded citizens, whose means are sufficient to provide for their daughters and sons, to consider the many thousands of people who are in serious need. The success of the President's Reemployment Program can only be obtained through the full cooperation of all."

During the Christmas rush, inventory, and other peak times, exceptions to the maximum periods of labor are provided for in the Retail Trade Code.

FIRE FOLLOWS DINNER ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Following a Thanksgiving dinner, the family of Mrs. James Riley of Forest, adjourned to the living room for a radio program. While there neighbors discovered a fire in the rear of the house. Volunteer firemen hurried to the house but owing to the lack of water the building burned to the ground. Neighbors succeeded in saving much of the family clothing and furniture.

EARLY DAY RESIDENT IS BORNE TO REST

The last rites were said Wednesday for the late Mrs. Mary J. Hallett, beloved by a wide circle of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. H. H. Buckner. Mrs. Hallett was one of the early day residents of Nevada City. Her four sons, H. H. Holden, Fred and Eugene Hallett, a grandson, Herbert Hallet, and a son-in-law, Henry Wiseman, were pall bearers. Many beautiful floral pieces attested the high esteem in which Mrs. Hallett has been held. The interment, in charge of the Holmes Funeral Home, was in Pine Grove Cemetery.

Chamber Moves For Air Port On Level Top of Cement Hill

The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce is handing in an application to the Aeronautics department of the Department of Commerce for the establishment of one of the 2,000 airports, authorized in a recent appropriation, on the top of Cement hill.

This project involves the expenditure of $5,000 for each airport, or a total of $10,000,000.

A letter received by Secretary W. H. Griffith of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce from R. E. Fischer, chairman of the Statewide Aeronautical committee, states:

"Briefly, this (offer of the Government) means that your community has an opportunity to do two things. First, you can secure a safe, adequate airport for your city, all improvements to be paid for out of Federal funds. Second, you will secure Federal relief for unemployment in your community, in as much as 80 per cent of the funds expended are to be for wages."

For several years the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce has been pushing a plan to establish a landing field on top of Cement Hill, where there are over 150 level acres of land, affording room for two runways each 3,000 feet long and 500 feet wide.

The site has already been approved by two aeronautic engineers from the Department of Commerce, who have declared that the location is strategically ideal for north and south and east and west flying. The site is perennially free of fogs and mists, and lies in an alternative route to the one now taken by airmail pilots over the "hump" south of Emigrant Gap. Often the pilots are obliged to detour north as far as Yuba pass before the cloud masses yield them a clear streak in which to wing their way to Reno. The Cement Hill lies at point ideally situated for an emergency landing for all east and west aerial traffic. Similarly when the Sacramento Valley is filled with fog north and south, fliers must also ascend and veer toward the Sierras to get a clear way.

The Nevada City Council has signified its desire to assist in making this landing field an actuality by adopting appropriate resolutions.

Mr. Griffith this evening will attend a meeting of the Aeronautical committee and the Sacramento Valley Council this morning at 10 o'clock in Sacramento, where further developments of the statewide drive to take full advantage of this Federal offer will be discussed.

NEW SHAMROCK CAFE NOW OPEN

The M Cafe recently leased by Mrs. Blanche Neaves and Mrs. Ida Mae Foote of the Shamrock Cafe will present an entirely modern appearance when the new owners open it today.

The work of designing the booths and installing them has been in charge of L. S. Smith and Son, contractors, and the seats have been especially contrived to give the maximum of comfort. In fact all the wood work supplied by this firm is not only of the latest modern type, but has artistic values as well.

Earnest Carnes, sign painter and decorator did a splendid piece of work in painting and decorating the interior and later will put the new sign on the plate glass window.

The [illegible]sworth Furniture has also been enlisted in supplying parts of the new furniture. Edd Addington has installed the electrical fixtures and appliances, making it electrically one of the most convenient dining rooms and kitchens in the county.

Mrs. Blanche Neaves and her partner and daughter, Mrs. Ida Mae Foote, are extremely pleased with the new restaurant. They will install a fine plate glass window at the front and in the rear, every modern appliance and convenience will be used for the cooking and storage of goods.

The Shamrock Cafe has a large and loyal list of patrons who will be immensely pleased with their new dining room when it opens for business this morning.

TO ORGANIZE HYDRAULIC DIST. ON SOUTH YUBA

A petition asking for the formation of a mining aera to be known as the Black Rock District has been filed with the Nevada County Board of Supervisors by W. H. Taylor, F. Hoge and Arthur W. Hoge of Nevada City.

The petition is the first to be filed in the county under the provision of "an act to provide for the organization, operation, financing, government and dissolution of placer mining districts" passed by the 1933 California stat elegislature. The act was introduced by Senator J. L. Seawell of Roseville.

The properties to be included in the proposed district are the Relief Hill and the placer mining property of the Omega placer claims. The proposed plans are to construct a concrete dam acress the South Fork of the Yuba River to empound debris from placer mining operations to be carried on above the dam.

The proposed dam will have a height of 109 feet above the river bed and have a storage capacity of 5,000,000 cubic feet. The cost of the project is estimated at $169,000.

SUPERVISORS NAME COMMITTEE ON C W A

The Nevada County Board of Supervisors has appointed a committee of ten to make recommendations for the local CWA program.

The recommendations will be submitted to the CWA, which will decide upon the projects for which the funds will be awarded. The committee comprises:

H. O. Kohler, Washington; R. A. Eddy, Nevada City; E. K. Smart, M. Henry Argall, Fred Bitney and J. Harris Jr., Grass Valley; Herman Hartung, Pleasant Valley; Charles Gearhart, You Bet; T. B. English, North Columbia, and W. A. Levee, Little York.

Probation Officer A. W. McGagin, in charge of unemployment registration, announces that twelve men will be put to work next week on the Grass Valley-Colfax highway, between Bear River and Grass Valley, under the supervision of the state highway commission.

The work will be divided into two projects, $5,000 for each being allocated by the CWA. The men registered with McGagin will report at the Nevada County Courthouse today and Friday.

THE UNDERTAKER IN SOUTH DAKOTA

In the magazine section of the Los Angeles Times, Fred C. Christopherson, a member of the editorial staff of the Sioux Falls, S. D., Argus Leader, writes on the plight of South Dakota's noble experiment in socialism, under the apt title of "Another Job For the Undertaker!"

That undertaker, when he gets around to burying the economic corpses, will be in for a busy time, and the people of South Dakota will stand the bill for some very expensive funerals. Back in the days of the Non-Partisan League the state started experimenting on an unprecedented scale. It created a state crop hail insurance department, which was liquidated in 1933. It established a state bonding department, which ran merrily from 1919 to 1933. It guaranteed bank deposits from 1915 until 1927. It established a statecement plant, which is still running—the last sad remnant of the economic jag. It had a state-owned coal mine, which went to Valhalla in 1929. And, finally, from 1917 to 1925 itplayed with a state rural credit department.

The various experiences created deficits to the tune of $75,000,000. The bank deposits law, for example, cost the taxpayers $35,000,000. The rural credit system used up red ink to the extent of $38,000,000. The coal mine swallowed the modest sum of $185,000, and the loss to date on the cement plant is $300,000. And so it went—from bad to worse.

On paper, as Mr. Christopherson said, the socialist program was a honey. There wasn't a hole in it. South Dakota was about to be Utopia on earth. When it came to actual performance, the other side of the medal was seen. Politics ran rampart. There was plenty of money, and the taxpayers could be taken for more. And today few commonwealths are sadder, wiser or so tax-ridden as South Dakota.

Those who would have other states adopt similar progress might take a look into the Northwest, read the figures, and do a little thinking:

TRAFFIC MEN CHECK ALL DRIVERS LICENSES

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7.—Members of the California Highway Patrol have been instructed today by Chief E. Raymond Cato to charge all persons with a misdeameanor caught driving a motor vehicle without a driver's license in their possession.

The order was issued specifically for the information of officers engaged in brake and light testing activities but will apply to all officers.

The officers were instructed to ask all drivers to exhibit their licenses when such drivers are stopped for any violation of the vehicle act or for other reason.

Cato explained that it was felt the drivers of the state are taking too lightly the requirement that the driver of a motor vehicle must have a valid license in his possession at all times while driving.

The citation charging failure to have a driver's license will be issued in all cases in addition to the citation for any other type of violation the driver may have been stopped for.

THE LIVING TREE

I grew by a graveled pathway,
A young and a verdant tree;
Where the dew, the wind and the moonbeams
Came often to play with me;
My voice was a lisping whisper,
But I longed to be strong and tall,
Like the towering trees on the hillside
That sing when the wild winds call.

And then, one wintry morning,
I stood neath a sullen sky,
And watched in fear and pity,
As the slain of my race passed by;
Drear were the winds about me
And fraught with an icy chill,
But the great trees brooded darkly
In a silence hushed and still.

Ere long my dread grew greater,
For warm hands fondled me,
And a child's voice shouted, "daddy,
Here is our Christmas tree!"
I knew that life was over,
That my fond young hopes were dead—
But they jeweled my living branches
And placed a star on my head!

And so in radiant splendor,
By the graveled path I stood,
A creature of life and beauty,
Akin to the field and the wood;
And each throb of my earth bound spirit
To those gentle souls I give,
Who decreed in love and mercy
That a little tree should live.

A. MERRIAM CONNER.

EARLY ORDERS SENT IN FOR LICENSE PLATES

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7.—California motorists are shopping early for their 1934 license plates.

The department is receiving applications by mail only at this time. Counter deliveries will not be made until January 2nd, and thereatter.

FAIRBAIN IS THANKED FOR MINE INS CUT

It was due largely to the formidable presentation of insurance data by Nathan L. Fairbairn, general manager of the Limited Mutual Compensation Insurance company, showing the unreasonableness of the old rates that the Insurance Commissioner was finally induced to revise and reduce the rates to mining operators.

This statement is attested by three letters received by Mr. Fairbairn, one from the Governor, a second from J. C. Kamp VanEe Jr., secretary of the Mining Association of California, and a third from State Senator Jerry Seawell.

The Governor in his letter to Fairbairn states: "The facts and figures you submitted convince me that the mine operators were entitled to a reduction in rates. I so notified the Insurance Commissioner."

Polly Merrill

FATHER and Mother Merrill had gone off to a neighboring plantation on business, leaving at home their three children, with sixteen-year-old Polly in charge, under careful instructions to keep Peter, aged three, out of mischief, put the bread in to bake at ten, and not to be afraid of Tories, as none had been seen thereabouts for some time. For this was in the year 1780, when the Revolution was nearing its close, and North Carolina was overrun by the British.

Father and mother were scarce gone from home, however, when a band of the dreaded Tories were sighted approaching the house. Polly was wise enough in the ways of these marauding bands to know they were probably after father's money, of which he had received a fair sum in payment of a debt some days before. Quick as a thought, sending her younger sister to get the wallet which held the money out of its hiding place, she molded the bread dough into loaves. Then, pouring the gold into the bottom of her pans, she pressed the dough over it, and pushed her morning's baking into the hot oven.

The British were indeed after the money. When Polly, with red cheeks and beating heart, defied them to find it, they commenced ransacking the house, and soon found Mr. Merrill's wallet, which had been emptied in such haste that a few coins remained in it, and rolled out on the floor. Polly watched with her heart in her mouth. Then up ran little Peter, to pick up the money, give it to the officer, and crow delightedly, "Pretty money. More in fower!"

Polly's heart sank. Apparently Peter had seen her hide the precious gold. In terror she watched her little brother take the British officer's hand and lead him, out to the kitchen, and then, curiously enough, out the back door to the flower garden. Then she sighed in relief. She knew what Peter had in mind.

Out in the garden the Tories commenced digging, ruthlessly uprooting rose bushes and alysum. Finally their shovels hit something hard. In triumph they dug up a wooden box. Opening it, they found the body of Peter's pet rabbit, which had died to his inconsolable grief, and been buried in the garden the day before! A few minutes later, alarmed at the reported approach of American troops under Marion, the chagrined Tories mounted their horses and rode away.

Mr. and Mrs J. B. Young and her brother, Richard Fischer returned Monday evening from Hercules where they were called by the illness and death of Mrs. Young's and Mr. Fischer's mother, Mrs. W. Fischer.

Mr. and Mrs. George Neagle and daughter, Nadine left Wednesday for Oakland where they are to reside

"EXECUTIVES" NOT TO BE USED TO EVADE N R A

Everyone who receives a large salary is not an executive, within the meaning of the Retail Code, E. Tilden Mattox, District Compliance Director, explaiend today.

Executives have been exemted from the maximum hour provisions applicable to employees generally in retail establishments. Many people have in error believed that this exemtionu applies to all employees who receive the salary specified for executives in the Retail Code. This is not so, and it should be clearly understood that a person to be considered an executive must be responsible for the management of a business, or a recognized subdivision thereof.

According to official advices from Washington, every person at the head of a subdivision of a retail organization does not necessarily come under this classification. He must be responsible, in a supervisory capacity, and exercise real managerial authority with duties and discretion entirely different from that of normally salaried employees before he may be allowed to work unlimited hours as an executive.

It is also pointed out by Mattox that the proportion of executives to other employees in a particular establishment is limited by the provisions of the Retail Code.

Among recently approved Codes of Fair competition, that for the Cleaning and Dyeing Trade is of particular importance, Mattox says. Because of the ruinous price competition that has for many years demoralized that business, this is the only code that has been approved to date that has rigid price fixing features.

Your Question and Its Answer:
QUESTION:"Will you please explain how Chiropractic accounts for the cause and cure of disease? It it confined to disease of the nervous system?"
ANSWER:—Briefly stated, Chiropractic teaches that disease comes when the organs and tissues are weakened and their resistance lowered by lack of Vital Energy supplied by the brain over the spinal nerves. This nerve energy may become partially shut off by pressure. The pressure can exist only in the spine where the nerves make their exit between two movable bones. When pressure exists the organ supplied by the pinched nerve suffers, and will continue to suffer until the pressure is released. Acting as a body mechanic, the Chiropractor locates the point of pressure and then releases it with a Spinal Adjustment. Experience clearly demonstrates that Chiropractic is not limited, but it is applicable in all kinds of sickness.
This department is edited to spread the knowledge of Chiropractic. Queries will be answered in the order received, if addressed to—

MACK MINES TO CLOSE FOR WINTER SEASON

The Mack Mines, Ltd., in the Canada Hill district has just completed cutting a station at the 100 foot level and are now drifting on the east and west vein and will soon contact the main or Charronat vein from which considerable amounts of gold were taken at the surface in the past.

The company is not equipped to operate the mine during the winter. The company is in good ore. Considerable difficulty was experienced with water.

The superintendent, Bruce Wallace was called to Los Angeles last week and it is expected that he will return for a time during the holidays. He left a small crew at work until the storms set in.

TRAFFIC FORCE TO ARREST ALL DRIVING DRUNKS

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7.—Expressing the hope that California drivers of motor vehicles will use "their new-found liberties with sanity and wisdom" with prohibition repeal effective. Theodore J. Roche, director of the California Department of Motor Vehicles, has issued a warning that drunken driving will not be tolerated on the highways.

Tendencies to celebrate the return of legalized liquor by driving at excessive speeds and in a dangerous manner will be dealt with sternly, Roche said, and highway patrolmen will have specific instructions to arrest any person caught violating the law in this regard.

Roche called attention to the fact that there are now more than three times as many motor vehicles operating on California highways as there were in 1920 when the prohibition law became effective.

ROCHE'S STATEMENT

The director's statement said:

"Records of the Department of Motor Vehicles show there were approximately 604,000 motor vehicles being operated in California at the end of 1919.

"Our estimate for the year 1933 is 2,080,000 vehicles or considerably more than three times as many as in 1919.

"This enormous increase in vehicles has increased our traffic problem tremendously. The appalling increase in motor vehicle deaths has been coincident with the increase in registrations.

"Now, as never before, is safe driving imperative.

"We who have supported repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment anticipate little if any additions to the motor vehicle accident rolls. The drunken driver has been a vexatious problem with us during all the years of prohibition. No doubt he will continue to be so.

ADVISES SANITY AND WISDOM

"We hope and believe that the public will use its new-found liberties with sanity and wisdom. We ask that the public co-operate with us in seeing that these new liberties are not abused or discredited. It is our hope that repeal will be ushered in quietly and without tendency on the part of our people to celebrate its advent by excesses.

"This is our sincere wish.

"But with such of those as insist on abusing their privileges the Department of Motor Vehicles is prepared to deal sternly. Our officers will be instructed to stop every driver found to have been drinking excessively. Drunken driving cannot and will not be tolerated."

HI HOOPSTERS WILL PLAY ST. MARY'S TEAM

By THE CUB REPORTER

Nevada City's A and B basketball squads will play St. Mary's Cardinals Saturday December 9. The B team game will start at 7:30. It is to be held at Redmen's Hall in Nevada City. Due to the lack of A classification material, Coach Barron has had to shift class B men up to the A squad. Bud Pierce and Tom Doyle are the only class A men out for basketball. The squad consists of R. Pierce, Doyle, Haddy, Jones, Whitley, Hansen, F. Joyal, and Roman Rozynski.

The A squad has been working hard and although the majority lack experience, will probably make a good showing Saturday night.

The B. Squad, the more experienced quintet, with the veterans, Bob Tamblyn and Carl Steger, returning and the addition of Budi, Bill Mullis and Dick Stevens to the squad, are set for a good year.

The preliminary game will be staged between the Grass Valley and Nevada City C team. The Nevada City C squad will build its team around Ray Wilde, Bill Polkinghorn, V. King, Harold Lopez, Art Elliot, and Harley Leete, together with other boys out for practice.

ROLPH'S LYNCH SYMPATHY HIT BY ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7—The New Deal does not stand for mob rule and lynching. President Roosevelt made that plain today.

In a hard-hitting speech before an audience of churchmen here, the nation's chief executive heaped condemnation upon "collective murder" and called for abolition of violence through reform of the judiciary.

"We do not excuse those in high places or in low who condone lynch law," the President said.

REBUKE IS SEEN

His utterances are clearly regarded by many as a stinging rebuke to Governor James Rolph, Jr., of California for his attitude toward lynchers of two kidnapers, and to Maryland officials for their part in recent eastern shore disturbances.

Roosevelt's address was delivered last night to the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America at Constitutional Hall. He took occasion not only to excoriate actual lawbreakers but also those who conceal their wrongdoings by legal technicalities.

SOUNDS CHEERFUL NOTE

In conclusion, however, he sounded an optimistic note with the cheerful statement that:

"From the bottom of my heart I believe that this beloved country of ours is entering upon a time of great gain."

The President swung into his observations of recent violence by first citing the new deal creed and then expressed confidence that the younger generation will not be found wanting.

The President said:

"This new generation, for example, is not content with preachings against that vile form of collective murder—lynch law—which has broken out in our midst, anew. We know that it is murder, and a deliberate and definite disobedience of the commandment, "thou shalt not kill." We do not excuse those in high places or in low who condone lynch law.

URGES QUICK JUSTICE

But a thinking American goes further. It seeks a government of its own that will be sufficiently strong to protect the prisoner and at the same time crystalize a public opinion so clear that government of all kinds will be compelled to practice a more certain justice.

The judicial function of government is the protection of the individual and of the community through quick and certain justice. That function in many places has fallen into a sad state of disrepair. It must be a part of our program to re-establish it.

5000 Couples Wed to Please Il Duce

When Italy recently set aside a sort of "Get Married" day, in response to Premier Mussolini's plea for more marriages and more children to repopulate the nation, 5000 couples pleased Il Duce by being joined in matrimony throughout Italy. In Rome 700 couples were married in their various parishes, and then, as shown above, assembled for celebration of a special mass in the church of Santa Maria Degli Angeli.

Mrs. Muriel Andrews, owner of the Grizzly Ridge mine, who has been confined to her home with a severe cold, was able to be down town Wednesday for the first time in more than a week.

William Lackland of North San Juan was a Nevada City visitor yesterday.

LUMBER TALKS

BRIGHT DAYS AHEAD

The gentle rain is falling
It's falling here and there,
Upon the sun-parched valley
And hillsides brown and bare;
And soon the farmer will sow his crop
And young spring lambs will skip and hop.

The welcome rain if falling
It's falling far and near,
The arid land rejoices
And hails the Glad New Year;
For soon the little streams will flow
And all the fields with verdure glow.

The busy rain is falling,
It has great tasks to do,
Rejuvenating nature
And building hopes anew;
What will the new Year have to tell
If we all do our work as well?

A. M. C.

Speaking of the New Year at this time may seem somewhat premature; but—it is just around the corner. Just time to do some last tasks of repairing, remodeling, and rejuvenating before the spring season comes with it's bright challenge to new and intensive activities.

And speaking of Christmas, what more permanent gift to mother, wife or sister then EXTRA CLOSETS, SHELVES or CUPBOARDS, or the more ornamental WINDOW SEAT, built in WRITING DESK, or BUFFET. Then there is the attic which may be converted into an extra room for the children, or into a den for father. Look the house over and some method of improving it will present itself to your mind.

We have all materials which you will need for your seasonal tasks, and our advice and suggestions are always at your service.

SPEAK EASIES MUST QUIT IN SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO, December 7th—Chief of Police William Hallanan today declared the deadline for the speakeasies has arrived and any of those operating in the city may expect a visit from a police raiding squad at any time.

Hallanan, who several days ago issued a warning to the speakeasy proprietors, telling them to close up and move out their stocks, said he has been informed by his officers that a large number of barred door establishments formerly operating here have gone out of business.

Others have disregarded his orders and still are serving drinks over the bar.

Since the advent of legal liquor some of the speakeasies have been serving tax paid spirits by the drink. The depression era price, that virtually amounted to two drinks for 25 cents, the customer buying one and the house buying back, has gone out of effect. Drinks now are 25 cents each, with no come backs, but the liquor is supposed to be better.
